Dear Mr. Manger:
The answers to your inquiries are as follows:

1. No portion of our staff is specifically assigned to monitor non-profit corporations. Attorneys are assigned to handle complaints or inquiries on such organizations when the activities thereof fall within the attorneys' special area of expertise.
 2. The Attorney General is the Chief prosecuting officer of the State. The staff acts on its own initiative and discretion but complaints from the public are generally the source of investigation.
 3. No.
 4. There is a trend toward more supervision than in the past.
 5. No.
 6. Not available.
 7. No.
 8. I am unable to respond to this question since I have no overall view of this Office's activities in this area. Personally, I have only taken action against non-profit corporations when they have violated the criminal laws of this State.
- Very truly yours,

Joseph R. Barker
Assistant Attorney General
