Dear Congressional Leaders,

We, a bipartisan group of attorneys general, ardently request that you reauthorize the Autism CARES Act since the current law¹ sunsets on September 30, 2019. The number of individuals diagnosed with autism spectrum disorders (“ASD”) continues to rise, and the Autism CARES Act of 2019, H.R. 1058 and S. 427, responds to this national concern with a cohesive interagency effort.

According to the Autism and Developmental Disabilities Monitoring Network, one out of every fifty-nine children in America is diagnosed with ASD. Yet, ASD within minority communities tends to be diagnosed less often and much later. Reauthorizing the Autism CARES Act will specifically incentivize ASD programs and research in America’s rural and underdeveloped communities.

Nearly half of 25-year old individuals with ASD have never held employment²; as a result, the CARES Act of 2019 prioritizes community-based solutions to better incorporate adults with ASD into society. Research indicates that job activities encourage independence that relieves autism-related symptoms while reinforcing daily life skills.³ In addition, this may help alleviate some of the strain on parents of individuals with ASD. On average, mothers of children with ASD are only able to maintain about half as many work hours as mothers without children with ASD.⁴

ASD impacts hundreds of thousands of Americans. Congress began addressing autism in 2000 with the first enactment of the bill. The 161 cosponsors of the current House and Senate bills and the 118+ bipartisan members of the Congressional Coalition for Autism Research and Education demonstrate its significance. The Autism CARES Act of 2019 will continue Congress’ ongoing mission to ensure that those living with ASD receive the necessary support and research. Therefore, we, the undersigned attorneys general, ask you to support and to enact the Autism CARES Act of 2019 before September 30, 2019.

Sincerely Yours,

Curtis T. Hill, Jr.
